

Introduction to Western Painting

This talk is recommended for general art enthusiasts and new collectors who wish to know about Western art and some basic ways to appraise western paintings. Through the course, participants will be introduced to the history and evolution of Western painting, and the aesthetics specific to the genre.

During the course, participants will also go through a series of brief analysis on some important Western paintings through the different ages.

Vincent van Gogh, Starry Night, 1889